Mr. Clay Larkin asked Mr. Eirls if the fuel tax issue will affect the free public transportation. Mr. Eirls said he has spoken to a planner that says this may affect their contributions to the system, but does not have any details on how, but they are looking into outside contributions. Mr. Larkin asked the Board how this will affect KMPO, the Tribe and State and how should KMPO proceed with this issue.

6. Director's Report

Mr. Glenn Miles, KMPO Executive Director, reported the City of Rathdrum had a meeting with North Idaho area Legislators regarding Bridging the Valley giving them a briefing on where it is at today and how critical the congressional effort to get funding for the project is. On May 22, 2007, these North Idaho Legislators sent a letter to Senator Craig and Senator Crapo letting them know of their support for the Bridging the Valley project as well the need for funding into the rail relocation and capital improvement program.

Mr. Miles also stated that a pamphlet has been put out by the Federal Highway Administration (FHA) and Federal Transportation Association (FTA) in coordination with the American Planning Association which recognizes the 2006 Transportation Planning Excellence Awards and Citylink was awarded a most honorable mention for their efforts in public transportation in this area.

Mr. Miles informed the Board that currently in congress there are two schools of thought regarding transportation funding. The administration has pushed with public private partnerships and a few have not done to well. A commission was created by congress to study the next Reauthorization Bill and part of the group is saying there needs to be more private public partnerships in order to leverage private sector investment in the public owned transportation system and the other group that look at publicly owned transportation as a national asset. There are different investment groups around the world who are looking into investing into the United States' transportation system. The other item that will be on the next Reauthorization Bill is the subject of freight mobility. There was a brief question and answer period on this issue among the Board.

Mr. Miles also mentioned that the budget levels for 2008 have been approved by congress. The appropriations cycle is in full swing and will be made apparent this summer.

Mr. Kelly Brownsberger recommended the following KCATT recommendation items to the Board for approval: The Human Services Coordinated Transportation Plan, Huetter Corridor Right of Way Study as submitted at the November 2, 2006 presentation.
